By ELMONT WAITE
Guam, April 3 (AP)—Almost 10 days ahead of schedule, 24th Corps infantrymen were on the eastern shore of Okinawa just above Nakagusuku bay today. They bisected the strait, to island in a swift two-day dash against slight resistance.

Observation planes, meanwhile, operated off of two captured airfields, Katena and Yontan. This indicated that before long land-based combat planes will join the mighty armada of carrier aircraft closely supporting the strangely easy invasion of the principal Ryukyu island, only 325 miles south of Japan itself.

Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge's 24th Corps severed the thin waist of southcentral Okinawa by reaching the east coast village of Tobara in a two and one-half mile drive yesterday, the second day of the campaign.

The Yanks were on the shores of Katsuren bay, immediately north of the extensive anchorage at Nakagusuku bay—once a favorite maneuvering ground of the Japanese fleet.

Coup For Buckner
So far this has been the easiest invasion of the entire Pacific war. Not a single Japanese prisoner of war has been taken.

The Japanese garrison has been estimated in strength at more than 60,000 troops—a sizable fighting force. Approximately 100,000 Americans are involved in the operation by Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner Jr.'s newly-activated Tenth Army, which includes Army and Marine units.

Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland wrote "It appears that General Buckner's Tenth Army achieved one of the greatest coups of the war against Japan."

Supplies Piling Up
AP Correspondent Leif Erickson suggested that the main body of Japanese troops could make "a bitter saturation defensive stand" on a two-mile isthmus 10 miles or so north of the American beachhead.

Naval guns, field artillery and Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's great carrier force—he has 1,500 aircraft at his command—gave close support to the ground operations.

Unloading of supplies onto the beaches was proceeding so fast that troops inland complained the material was piling up on them.

BURGESS TELLS COUNCIL LOCAL PROBLEMS WITH JUVENILE CASES

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer took occasion Monday evening at the April meeting of the borough council to answer public criticism of "laxity" in dealing with petty juvenile crime here and to point out the limits on borough authorities in dealing effectively with youthful offenders.

The burgess mentioned particularly a published instance in which a local school board member was quoted as saying he "didn't see why the borough countenanced" such occurrences as that in which a high school teacher several months ago had a narrow escape from serious injury from rifle bullets fired into the school room.

To explain the borough's position in dealing with juvenile crime here, the burgess said:

Cites Case Records
"Our police brought a juvenile before me for discharging a gun in the borough some time ago. I fined him and was informed by the judge that I had gone beyond my jurisdiction. Later two boys were brought in for firing guns in the borough and we petitioned juvenile court to handle the cases. The petitions were denied. Then the bullets went through the high school window."

The whole matter came before council when one member complained about groups of high-school age young people blocking the pavements in the business section. He asked if the police could not break it up.

The burgess replied by saying that the youngsters usually don't react favorably to officers' suggestions while his office remains without effective means of enforcing police orders in petty cases involving children of juvenile court age. "Juvenile court would not entertain a petition in a case of that sort," he said. "It's too trivial. Yet our police are daily faced with the necessity of dealing with these youngsters."

At a meeting that was otherwise largely routine, councilmen heard that a conference between LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, and a state highway department engineer, on Buford avenue drainage problems resulted in agreement on the opinion that relocating a 500-foot section of storm sewer and changing its angle of entrance into the Tiber.

Report On Flood Problem
The sewer committee was directed to prepare cost estimates and find out what can be done about eliminating "the real bottleneck" in the Tiber flood problem—the underpass at the Gettysburg Throwing company plant. Vernon Corle, sewer committee chairman, estimated the relocation of the sewer line would cost "several thousand dollars."

The engineers have agreed, it was stated, that pipes under the railroad (Please Turn to Page 2)

Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion and veteran member of the Adams county veterans' certification committee for handling guaranteed loans for veterans interested in farming, was elected chairman of the committee at the group's recent organization meeting.

The other members of the committee are Edgar W. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4; Felix Klunk, Hanover R. 2; O. H. Benson, Gettysburg R. 5; and Clarence A. Myers, York, secretary of the committee.

Mr. Benson, who had been serving as temporary chairman pending the organization meeting, was nominated to head the committee but declined the position, stating he felt the veteran member should be chairman "since the service of the committee" (Please Turn to Page 6)

After V-E Day Most Men Won't Get Home But Will Go To Pacific

(Many Americans have rosy hopes of what victory in Europe will bring. To get the facts—and many of them proved to be harsh—the Associated Press assigned two of its ace Washington reporters to interview the highest military and civilian American war planners. This is the first of five articles on their findings.)

By ELTON C. FAY
and JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, April 3 (AP)—It will be many months after victory in Europe before most American soldiers get home.

A few will come to stay, but most will come only for visits. The visits will not be long—two or three weeks, perhaps a month. Then on to Tokyo.

Some soldiers will go directly from France to the Philippines. They will not get home at all until Japan is beaten, unless it's on a stretcher.

These are the harsh facts of what V-E Day will mean in heartache to millions of families, as well as in jubilation that half the war is won.

Nazi Captors Slay Brilliant Commander Of 3rd Armored

By DON WHITEHEAD

With the U. S. First Army, April 3 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Maurice Rose, brilliant commander of the Third Armored Division which spearheaded the First Army's great drive from the Rhine river deep into Germany, was shot to death near Paderborn March 30 by a German tankman as the general started to surrender his arms after being captured.

Companions said the tall, handsome general was shot through the head as he lifted his pistol holster from his shoulder to hand it over to the German covering him and his aide with a machine-pistol from the turret of a tank which infiltrated into American lines south of Paderborn.

Rose, who was always forward with advance elements giving personal directions to his combat and task force commanders, had gone to the area to direct the Third Armored Division's fight to capture an important road junction.

Ran Into Nazi Column

He started back in a jeep with his aide, Maj. Robert Bellinger, of White Plains, N. Y., trying to find another of his task force commanders, when he turned a curve and ran head-on into Tiger tanks on the road which a short while before had been carrying First Army traffic. An armored car was following with other members of his staff.

The general's driver wheeled the jeep across a field through woods, but ran head-on into another German tank and the general got out of his jeep to surrender.

Shearer, of the borough police department and Sunday afternoon was turned over to Maryland State police. Police say the youth escaped from St. Mary's Industrial school, Baltimore, on March 4, and since that time had been working on a farm in Adams county.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Associated Press War Editor)

British, American and Canadian tanks and infantry sheared to within 25 miles of the Zuider Zee and 60 of the North sea today, fashioning a trap for German army groups in Holland, while the U. S. First and Ninth Armies squeezed tighter the noose around up to 110,000 Nazis in the Ruhr.

Gen. Eisenhower announced that the Germans in the Ruhr trap were "ripe for annihilation." The First Army smashed back German attempts to claw an escape gap.

The German high command said Russian spearheads reached the Baden area, 10 miles south of Vienna and Third Ukraine Army units fought inside Wiener Neustadt, and a German broadcast said "Vienna now is in the fighting zone." The Germans said also that Second Ukraine Army units were attacking the outer defense ring of Bratislava, puppet Slovakian capital, which Moscow said was entered. A last ditch defense of Vienna was indicated as the Germans announced Hitler had sent Col. Gen. Sepp Dietrich, his personal bodyguard, to mobilize the city.

Wide Allied Advances

A security blackout cloaked U. S. Third Army tanks and infantry, last reported 160 miles from Russian lines in Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's drive to bisect the Reich. On his right the U. S. Seventh Army mopped up in the Wuerzburg area and menaced the Nazi shrine city of Nuernberg, last reported 44 miles away, and to the south the French had outflanked Karlsruhe.

Plunging U. S. Ninth Army tanks in the north were nine miles from the Weser river by official account, lagging behind developments. The Weser is 155 miles from Berlin.

The Germans said Patton's forces were assaulting Suhl, 65 miles from the Czechoslovak frontier, and had surrounded Meiningen. These reports would indicate a 50-mile advance since yesterday and would bring the Americans three quarters of the way across the waist of Germany.

Farther north, another German broadcast said U. S. First Army forces had captured Kassel, rail and industrial city on the Fulda river.

Heavy Air Attacks

The daylight air offensive against Germany was renewed after a two-day lull as U. S. 15th air force bombers and fighters attacked a rail bridge east of Klagenfurt, Austria, about 80 miles ahead of the Russian front, and Allied bomber formations were reported over the western Reich.

American planes renewed attacks on German shipping with a heavy assault on the Keil Naval base by 750 bombers and 650 fighters.

German defenses in Holland and North Germany were being cut by ribbons and Nazi escape routes were being sealed off. Canadian troops and tanks reached the Twente canal 20 miles northeast of Arnhem, 25 miles from the Zuider Zee, and the British raced 17 miles north of captured Emschede to Nordhorn, 40 miles due east of Zwolle near the Zuider Zee.

Take Nazi Cities

Rhine, 20 miles west of Osnabrueck, was cleared, and the fall of Osnabrueck was imminent. U. S. Ninth Army forces were mopping up Hamm, the great Ruhr rail center, and other forces of Field Marshal Montgomery menaced the large northern German cities of Bremen and Hannover from points 60 miles away. The Ruhr industrial center of Recklinghausen fell to the Ninth Army along with other cities.

Eisenhower said the encirclement of German Army group B in the Ruhr and of Army group H was complete, and that denial of the most vital industrial area of the Reich to the Nazis "will bring the war more rapidly to a close."

In Italy British Eighth Army troops have landed behind German lines on the narrow strip of land between the Valli di Comacchio and the Adriatic sea and captured more than 200 Germans. Headquarters announced.

On the right flank of the new British advance, the U. S. 17th Airborne Division and British troops cleared two-thirds of Muenster, cathedral city and Westphalian capital, 25 miles southwest of Osnabrueck. A security blackout covered the Ninth's spearheads far beyond the Ruhr. Elements already may have reached the Weser river, 155 miles from Berlin.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's 12th Army Group headquarters said a total of 350,000 Nazis had been captured in March, of whom 150,000 were taken to the U. S. First Army.

HITLER SOON TO BE BOXED IN HIS MOUNTAIN FORT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

Faced with the certainty that time and the Allied tide won't wait even for the Fuehrer of the super race, Herr Hitler will have to move fast if he is to carry out to the full his desperate scheme of holding-up in the Bavarian Alps with picked Nazi troops for a final stand against the invaders.

The way things are going the Nazi dictator and his fanatical minions will be neatly boxed before long in their death cell in the mountains. The Allied armies are rapidly cutting up Northern Germany into jagged sections within which Hitler's men and resources are being trapped for annihilation.

The great Ruhr, keystone of Nazi war industries, is surrounded and there are perhaps 100,000 German troops in this trap. A Canadian and British drive northward into Holland threatens to enmesh another enemy army. Still other of the Reich's fighting men are being cut off from the south by the several Allied thrusts eastward, especially in the whirlwind drive of Patton's Third Army which is slashing the Reich in two at the waist and is headed for a junction with the Russians.

If He's Smart

And while Hitler is being separated from his armies and supplies in the north, two Red Armies are rushing against Vienna—from Hungary and Czechoslovakia—thus threatening his Alpine stronghold from the east. Meantime the American Seventh Army, a flying column of the Third Army and the First French Army are heading towards Munich and Vienna from the Rhineland.

One would think Der Fuehrer would get fresh impulse to crawl into his Alpine hide-out from the announcement by the United Nations War Crimes commission in London that he heads the list of war criminals. If he's smart he will keep under cover as long as he can and then shoot himself—not an unlikely end to the drama, one would think.

Signs multiply that the head Hun and his captains have no present intention of surrendering. Every day we see fresh moves calculated to drive the German fighting forces and civilian population to battle to a finish among the ruins of their once handsome and prosperous cities and towns. Hitler is sacrificing his country and his people to serve his own ends. This crime will be directed—perhaps even now is being directed—from the Alpine fortress.

Organize Guerrillas

The latest scheme is the launching of an intense propaganda campaign of lies, charging Allied troops with horrible atrocities against both German troops and civilians. Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter, is leading this drive and is hammering not only on the atrocity falsehoods but is holding out hope in alleged differences among the Allies.

There's a good deal of theatrical ham in the Berlin announcement that German guerrilla bands called "werewolves" have been formed to carry on underground war against the Allied forces of occupation. Still, I think we shouldn't make a mistake by brushing this threat aside as mere propaganda. The Nazi authorities some time ago instructed all civilians to obstruct and "murder" Allied soldiers, and we already have had bloody examples of Hitlerian revenge on Germans who have dared to cooperate with the Allies.

So in designating the underground force as werewolves the Nazi leaders are merely giving a nasty name to something which already exists. Mythology tells us that werewolves are human beings who are able to change themselves into wolves and in that animal form they practice cannibalism. Such a title fits the sadistic Prussian mentality well, and quite likely will impel daring and brutal deeds.

We have a concrete example of the effect of the Nazi "fight to a finish" propaganda in the siege of the fortified city of Aachenburg by the American Seventh Army. There teen age girls and old men and women are fighting beside the German troops.

Nazi Captors

head the German holding a machine pistol in the tank turret unloaded a torrent of words.

Others Escaped

"I don't understand," the general kept saying, according to Bellinger. Then apparently the general thought his captor meant for him to surrender his arms and he took his hands down to lift the holster from his shoulder. That was when the German fired.

Bellinger and other officers and men in the armored car made a dash for freedom and escaped, making their way to their headquarters hours later. The general's body was found where he was shot.

"It may have been that the general misunderstood what the German wanted and when he dropped his hands to lift the holster the tankman thought he was going to fight," a First Army officer said.

He trained at Sheppard Field, Texas; San Diego, Calif., and Sioux City, Iowa, before going to Hawaii in August, 1942. After spending three months in Hawaii he went to the South Pacific and has been stationed at various times in the New Hebrides, Guadalcanal, Admiralty Islands, New Guinea and Australia. Hollabaugh is a crew chief in a bomber squadron.

Another member of the group, S. Sgt. Charles W. Houser, Harrisburg, has a number of friends in Biglerville.

James Sillik, Biglerville R. 2, and Robert J. Brennan, Gettysburg R. 1, were charged with failing to have the current state inspection sticker on their automobiles, in information filed by the state police Monday with Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. Both men were sent 10-day notices.

31 CHILDREN ARE GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

Thirty-one sons and daughters of servicemen were the guests of the Gettysburg Rotary club in a special youth program arranged by O. H. Benson, club chairman of the club youth committee.

Mr. Benson made the introductory talk at the program during which eight members of the club recounted boyhood experiences and three of the young guests played musical selections.

"The challenging task of guiding boys and girls through the difficult years of adolescent adjustment into the safe channels of mature citizenship is a tremendous job," Mr. Benson said. He spoke of some of the fundamental principles in the guidance of youth and said these rules of good conduct "are as old as the history of civilized man." He mentioned as of outstanding importance in the training of youth the attributes of respect for parents, honesty, fair play, respect for law and order, a spirit of religious worship and training for service.

Club Gets Certificate

The Rotarians who told of childhood experiences were Charles Elcholtz, Edmund W. Thomas, Paul A. Kinsey, Walter T. Africa, Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, James S. Cairns, J. Price Oyler and Dr. J. Walter Coleman.

William Tipton rendered baritone horn solos, accompanied by Barbara Johnson, and Jack Cromwell played several piano selections. Door prizes were given each boy and girl present.

President Africa presided at the session at which 32 members and Rotarian Walter Crouse, Littlestown, were present. Announcement was made that the club had received a certificate of recognition for contributions made by the local Rotary group to the Rotary International Foundation. President Africa also announced the completion of the Rotary cog of service for the current Rotary year. The meeting was held at the YWCA.

SILVER STAR TO SGT. BOWERS

Mrs. Mary E. Bowers, Gettysburg R. 1, received word today from her son, Sgt. Paul Bowers, that he had been awarded the Silver Star Medal, which is given for gallantry in action.

Sgt. Bowers, who is fighting with the First Army in Germany, gave no details concerning the action for which he was awarded the decoration, but said simply that he had been called to battalion headquarters and given the medal.

The county soldier previously had received the Purple Heart medal for wounds received in action in Germany in December. He returned to duty January 18. He had been in the Army over two years and went overseas in May 1943 after completing his basic training at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

Mrs. Bowers has two other sons in the service. Sgt. Howard Bowers has been in the army for 22 years. He is stationed at a supply depot in France. The third son, Sgt. John Bowers, is fighting with the Third Army in Germany. John and Paul have not seen each other for over two years.

Paul was only recently promoted from corporal to sergeant, he informed his mother by mail last week.

grade crossing on Buford avenue are adequate. President H. M. Oyler said when the sewer committee is ready to report he will call a special meeting of council, if necessary, to act in the matter.

Explaining that he came at the request of the burgess, A. E. Hutchison, appeared before council to report on repair needs of the borough police car. He estimated the car could be repaired satisfactorily for about $160. Earlier council had authorized the property committee to get bids and award a contract to the "lowest and best" bidder to repair the machine. A $350 ceiling was placed on the repair bill. Two dealers already had submitted bids but they were not read aloud. Mr. Hutchison did not present a bid but was asked by councilmen to do so.

It is impossible, it was announced, to get either a new car or a new motor for the present machine.

Firemen Ask Funds

A committee of firemen—Chief James A. Aumen, Secretary Raymond Menges and Treasurer Joseph E. Codori—with the latter acting as spokesman came before council to ask earmarking of beer and liquor license fees returned to the borough by the state, for the use of the fire company.

The money would be placed in an apparatus fund for use after the war with a ladder truck as a likely purchase. President Oyler turned the request over to the finance committee with the observation that he believed that money had been counted in prospective borough receipts when the budget was set up.

The monthly report of Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore, presented later in the meeting, showed the town received $1,475 in liquor license fees from the state last month.

Councilman Corle spoke favorably of the effectiveness of the current campaign by the burgess and police to break up illegal parking in the town. President Oyler suggested that notice by mail be sent motorists who fail to appear in response to a ticket before their case is turned over to a justice of the peace.

George Eberhart, Eberhart hotel proprietor, came before council to complain about Greyhound buses parking in front of his apartments and allowing motors to run all hours of the night. He said bus passengers also frequently block his apartment entrance. Solicitor E. V. Bulleit cited a 1941 ordinance which prohibits parking for more than 70 feet south of Race Horse alley on the east side of the street. The matter was turned over to the ordinance committee for investigation and study.

work of the highway and sewer departments for the last month and said the work went ahead although he was confined to the hospital for eight days. He told of street repair work and needs and the purchase of a truckload of tar was authorized.

Burgess Pfeiffer was authorized to seek long-prepared plans of the next unit of the borough disposal plant from the estate of Robert Hall Craig who prepared them when the plant was built about 20 years ago.

The monthly report of the burgess showed total collections of $471.86 itemized as follows: Theatre tax, $394.86; annual theater license, $10; peddlers' permits, $50; fines, $15, and building permits, $2.

The monthly report of Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore showed a balance of $5,123 remaining in the general fund at the beginning of this month after March expenses of $2,564 had been paid.

Five members of Boy Scout Troop 77 attended the meeting as part of their training requirements for the merit badge in civics. They were accompanied by their scoutmaster, Jack Cessna.

President Oyler presided at the meeting with Councilmen L. D. Shealer, Harry J. Troxell, Harry E. Koch, Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Vernon Corle and Joseph D. Kendrickhart; Mrs. Wilmer Dracha, secretary; Treasurer Basehore, Mr. Winebrenner; Solicitor Bulleit and the burgess in attendance.

ATROCITY TALES SPREAD BY NAZIS TO SPUR REICH

Bern, Switzerland, April 3 (AP)—Nazi propagandists are resorting to widespread use of obviously fictitious stories of Allied atrocities in a last effort to spur military and civilian resistance in the waning hours of the Third Reich.

The readers of German newspapers find this new hate campaign splurged across the front pages. The real war news, now so dismal for the Nazis, has gone to the inside pages except for an occasional guarded army communiqué in the lower left hand corner of page one.

Adolf Hitler's own Voelkischer Beobachter keynoted the campaign with screaming headlines such as these: "Traitor fallen before justice," "American-purchased Aachen burgo-master shot by German fighters for freedom," "Only hate holds them together, inner differences of Allies unsolvable."

Desperate Effort Afoot
A story by a Stuttgart dateline declared negro soldiers were forcing women in Cologne to clean latrines, asserted American soldiers beat up a German woman who refused to pose for a picture and left her to die, and recounted that an American soldier took a German woman's coffee to a German woman who gave him a wrist watch in payment for milk for her baby.

Not since the war started has such vindictive material appeared even in the most official Nazi organs. To usually well informed Allied observers it signalled a desperate effort to keep some outward resistance going until the Nazis can form an underground organization with possibly Berchtesgaden as a headquarters.

The emergence of the "werewolves" and other guerrilla bands which the Germans say are operating behind Allied lines were seen as part of this projected movement.

ness, Steinwehr avenue, and Richard Cullison, of Orrtanna. Because of its outstanding membership gains during 1945, which already have passed the total membership of 1944, the post was awarded a membership citation from the Department of Pennsylvania of the Legion.

It was announced that the Lentz post, in conjunction with the county, will open an office in the near future to help returned service men with personal and business problems. The office will be used by the county veterans' administrator, a post which at present time is unfilled, and a schedule of hours and other arrangements will be announced in the future.

The office will be beside the Gettysburg Hardware store rooms on the street floor of the Legion building on Baltimore street. The Lentz post and the county commissioners are furnishing the office.

C. Arthur Brame, former veterans' administrator, resigned from the position this winter. A successor has not yet been named by the county commissioners.

Void Court Martial Of Colored WACS

Boston, April 3 (AP)—Major General Sherman Miles, commanding general of the First Service Command, today voided the recent court martial proceeding against four Negro WACS who were sentenced at Fort Devens to a year and hard labor after being convicted of refusing to obey superior officers.

The Army Public Relations office in a brief statement said that the action followed receipt of an opinion from the office of the Judge Advocate General, and that the WACS should be restored to duty.

The quartet was convicted on March 20 by an Army General court martial of violating the 6th Article of War. They immediately were sentenced to a year and dishonorably discharged.

At the trial the girls contended they were ordered to perform menial tasks in Lovell General Hospital, at Fort Devens, because of their color.

Presbyterians At Annual Meeting

James S. Cairns, H. M. Cater and Walter T. Africa were elected members of the board of trustees of the local Presbyterian church at the annual congregational meeting Monday evening. They will serve for three-year terms.

Miss Elizabeth Evans was re-elected church treasurer and three members of the board of deacons: J. Willis Beidler, J. William McIlhenny and Hugh C. McIlhenny, were re-elected. The Rev. H. S. Ecker and Judge W. C. Sheely presided during the two parts of the meeting.

Reports showed only $2.100 debt remains on the church. Miss Hattie Krauth reported for the Missionary society; Mr. Cairns for the deacons and trustees; and John K. Lott for the Session.

Church by-laws were amended to allow the Session to fix the date of all future congregational meetings.

MOSQUITOS HIT BERLIN DESPITE BAD WEATHER

London, April 3 (AP)—Despite unfavorable weather RAF Mosquitos last night attacked Berlin and Magdeburg, the British announced today, renewing an Allied air offensive that broke all records during March.

The overnight raids ended Germany's two-day and two-night respite from bombing attacks. Oil installations feeding the tottering German war machine were the principal target of the Mosquitos at Magdeburg, 70 miles southwest of Berlin.

RAF night raiders also attacked enemy communications and airfields over a large area in north-west Germany and Holland.

A rocket bomb attack last night by RAF coastal command planes destroyed or damaged seven German merchant ships and exploded a large dry dock in the anchorage of Sande Fjord on the Norwegian coast, it was announced today.

50,000 Sorties
Bad weather grounded Britain-based heavy bombers again yesterday. For the first time this year they were idle for two days straight.

Meanwhile, it was officially announced that Allied planes operating from Britain and bases behind the western front plattered Germany during March with nearly two and one-half times the bomb weight the Nazis have hurled on England by plane and V-bomb since the war started.

The U. S. Eighth and Ninth Air Forces rained 106,500 tons on the Reich during March and the RAF, operating from Britain and western Europe, poured down 82,880 tons. Tens of thousands of additional tons were dropped on Germany by Italy-based planes, which also had a record month.

Maj. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg said his Ninth Air Force hung up a new world record for tactical air forces by flying more than 50,000 sorties and dropping more than 33,000 tons of bombs on German targets in March.

Berlin was attacked for 29 consecutive nights by Mosquitos, which dropped more than 2,000 tons of bombs, an official RAF summary said.

Would Require State Rheumatic Fever Plan

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—State health officials would be required to establish a rheumatic fever program under provisions of a bill before the General Assembly.

Sponsored by Sen. Israel Stiefel, (D-Phila.), the measure would make it mandatory for the state Health Department to locate children suffering from this disease and to provide diagnostic service and clinical care.

Stiefel also sponsored a bill to permit the state to pay orphans of World War II veterans $250 a year for four years during their enrollment at a college or technical and professional school in Pennsylvania.

Would Kill Skunks to Control Rabies

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Killing of skunks on a year-round basis instead of during the present hunting season from November 15 through January 31 is proposed to curb spread of hydrophobia by Sen. Wallace S. Gouley (D-Washington).

Sponsoring a bill to remove skunks from the list of protected furbearers, Gouley said that from information he had received, skunks were among the greatest carriers of hydrophobia and they often spread rabies when they got into scraps with dogs.

The tropical disease Filariasis is caused by a parasite transmitted by mosquitoes.

Priority Ratings On Tires For Farmers

Farmers, farm workers and representatives of recognized agencies who use their cars to recruit farm workers, are given the second of four priority ratings when they apply for Grade 1 passenger car tires.

This same rating is accorded to other persons whose occupations are highly important to the war effort.

The first priority group is limited to doctors, public health nurses, police, and others whose employment is of an emergency nature, and to workers in war plants faced with production emergencies. The priority ratings for Grade 1 tire ration applications were worked out by OPA in cooperation with the War Manpower Commission, in order to get the best use out of the small remaining supply of tires. They will be followed by local War Price and Rationing Boards in issuing Grade 1 Tire Purchase Certificates.

YANKS CIRCLE JAPS ON LUZON

Manila, April 3 (AP)—Encirclement of Japanese in southern Luzon virtually was completed Sunday when troops of the 14th Army Corps and the 15th Regimental Combat Team, running through a moderate but ineffective gale of Nipponese artillery fire, landed at Legaspi harbor on the southeastern "tail" of Luzon, headquarters reported today.

They quickly captured the city of Legaspi, population 45,000, and its airfields almost without a struggle.

Destroyers and smaller units of the U. S. Seventh Fleet duelled with Nipponese artillerymen deep in the hills as Brig. Gen. Hanford MacNider sent his combat force ashore.

Between navy guns and Fifth Air Force bombs, Japanese guns were silenced by the time doughboys hit the beach. The landing was only slightly opposed.

Damage to the city, the east port on Luzon's east coast, was negligible. Meanwhile, other units of Maj. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold's 14th Corps, driving the last of the Japanese in southern Luzon toward Bicol peninsula, on which Legaspi is located, scored a telling breakthrough at Alaminos, south of Laguna De Bay.

COUNTY FUNDS

There was a balance at the beginning of the year of $115,913.35.

$10,000 in U. S. Bonds
The summary for the institutional district showed a balance at the start of 1944 of $45,613.65. Receipts totalled $43,531.33 and expenditures amounted to $45,747.98 which left a balance for the beginning of 1945 of $43,397.

The institutional district report showed that it cost $19,112.07 to operate the county home in the last year.

Included in the balance in the general fund is $10,000 in government bonds. Nine thousand dollars was paid on bonds matured and called during the year and was taken directly from the liquid fuel fund. The sinking fund showed an increase of about $200 from a 1944 balance of $17,252.24 to $17,597.28 at the beginning of 1945.

The complete report of the auditors will be published later in county newspapers. The report was sent Monday to the state Department of Internal Affairs.

TWO PRISONERS WOUNDED IN PEN ESCAPE; CATCH 6

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—Two prisoners were wounded and four remained at large today several hours after 10 convicts escaped from Eastern penitentiary by tunneling under the outer prison wall, Warden Herbert Smith announced.

The warden said the men escaped during the breakfast hour through a 50-foot tunnel which was entered from one of the prisoner's cells.

Wounded were Horace Bowers, serving a life sentence from Luzerne county for the killing of a state policeman, and Robert McKnight, serving a life sentence from Delaware county for first degree murder. Bowers' condition was described as critical.

The warden said the following also had been recaptured:

James Simister, serving a 5 to 10 year sentence from Philadelphia for assault and robbery; William Sutton, Philadelphia, 25 to 50 years for robbery; Michael Webb, Philadelphia, 15 to 30 years for larceny and breaking; Clarence Klinedinst, Philadelphia, 5 to 11 years for burglary and larceny.

Listed as still at large by Warden Smith were:

Victor Zymanski, 20 to 40 years for armed robbery in Philadelphia county; William Russell, Philadelphia, 15 to 30 years for burglary; David Aiken, Philadelphia, 10 to 20 years for armed robbery; James Grace, Philadelphia, 15 to 45 years for armed robbery.

Medical Insurance Bill Is Opposed

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Legislation to authorize combined hospital and medical insurance by non-profit corporations drew opposition today from the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

Dr. John J. Brennan, of Scranton, chairman of the society board of trustees, said the plan would place doctors under corporate domination of the Pennsylvania Blue Cross (hospital service) and "destroy our identity with the same dispatch and finality as socialized medicine under governmental control."

The opposition, announced Executive Secretary Lester H. Perry, is directed against bills introduced by Senator Louis H. Farrell, (R-Phila.), which the society said are backed by the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia.

Regulation of non-profit corporations organized to provide hospital and medical service would be placed under the state insurance department through the legislation. Not less than one-third of the members of the board of directors would consist of doctors of medicine under the proposal.

After V-E Day

at least six months after V-E Day before the Japanese begin to feel the full weight of the shift. It will be longer than that before men discharged as a result of the victory in Europe begin to get home in large numbers.

To understand how things will happen from V-E Day on, it seems essential to understand why the men of the military high command want them to happen just that way.

There are now almost 12,000,000 Americans in the armed services. About 4,000,000 are in the Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard, and 8,000,000 in the Army and Airforces. V-E Day will make little difference to the sea forces. The great bulk of the Navy is already fighting in the Pacific.

Some vessels will be moved westward from the Atlantic and European coastal waters, but some will be left for patrol and training.

But what is to be done with the 3,500,000 men in Europe?

Four Classes of Troops
It has been decided to break down the forces in Europe immediately after V-E day into four great classes:

1. Occupation troops. They will mop up the last disorganized resistance and then occupy Germany along with other Allied armies. It will probably be 1 or 2 years before replacements make it possible for them to come home in large numbers.

2. Troops to go directly to the Pacific. These will come mostly from service units of the ground and air forces and total hundreds of thousands of men. They will prepare bases for the combat soldiers who will follow. Some combat units will also go directly to the Pacific.

3. Furlough troops. Other hundreds of thousands of men will head for the Western Pacific by way of the United States, with furloughs at home. How the men are to be brought home and when is a separate story in this series.

4. Troops who will be sent home and demobilized. In the first months there will be few of these. Then the number will increase as the rush to move men to the Pacific eases off. Finally, as the army, drops to the size needed to wind up Japan, discharges will fall off until final victory.

Wounded Coming Home
In addition to these, there is another, a special category — the wounded.

The army hopes to have the last wounded man out of Europe and headed back home within 90 days after V-E. After World War I some wounded remained in Europe almost a year.

Probably the most of the men now in Europe will be grouped in

Wins Medal Of Honor

S-Sgt. George J. Hall of Stoneham, Mass. (above), a patient in Walter Reed hospital in Washington, is going to get the Congressional Medal of Honor for "gallantry and intrepidity" on the Anzio beachhead in Italy. classes two and three. The War Department declines any estimate now on how many men will be demobilized after victory in Europe. Probably they will number only a few hundred thousand the first year.

The army has set up a point system allowing credits for length of service, age, number of children, number of decorations and the like. The men who have the highest number of points—if replacements can be found for them or they are no longer needed—will be demobilized first.

AAF Special Problem
This will apply to men in the Pacific as well as Europe.

It will take a little longer for those in the Pacific to get home. They must wait longer for replacements and travel farther.

The Army Air Forces present a special problem. There are 2,300,000 in the AAF, including those in Europe. General Arnold says that when possible those coming out of Europe will be given leave to visit the homefolks. But he says many—and "possibly most"—will go directly to the Pacific.

Certainly it is planned to rush out to the Pacific the construction and ground crews needed to build vast new air bases. Best opportunities for furlough will go to combat crews who fly their planes out there via

FATHER OF FIVE KILLED

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—A 29-year-old father of five was killed Sunday when his motorcycle collided with an automobile in nearby Haverford. The victim, James K. Walker, of Chambersburg, Pa., was returning home from an army camp in Maryland where he had delivered a truck for his employer, the Nu Car Carrier Co., Chambersburg.

HIT RAIL BRIDGE

Rome, April 3 (AP)—The U. S. 15th Air Force, attacking in Austria and Yugoslavia Sunday to disrupt German rail traffic to the Russian front knocked the Maribor rail bridge out of service temporarily. It is the only rail crossing of the Drava river retained by the Germans east of Villach, Austria, 85 miles to the west.

the United States. There will be no visits home, of course, for those who fly east by way of Asia Minor.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Two Letters

Take a peek over my shoulder at a couple of interesting letters received in this morning's mail. Oh, I know, it isn't polite, but do it anyway just this one time.

One letter comes from a gentleman who fished recently in Hester's Lake in North Carolina. Attached to his letter was a narrow strip label reading "Blended and Bottled by Schenley Distributors, Inc., Schenley, Pa." While cleaning one of his catch, he found this label, neatly folded in the fish's stomach. Our correspondent asks, "Is it that the whiskey is so good that the fish will eat the labels?"

Just plain modesty prevents us from making a direct affirmative response. But our friend gives us an idea. We'd like to pass a suggestion on to those of our readers who have had fishing experiences similar to this recorder's. Haven't you often wondered how fish could turn down the alluring tidbits with which you tempted them? Well, you might save your Schenley labels for the next time you go fishing.

And then there is another letter, —this one from a PFC, serving overseas. He asks us to "save" him a case of his favorite beverage—"to celebrate with, after this war is over . . . I am not asking this as a gift, just want to be sure I can buy it when I return to the 'GOOD OLD U.S.A.'"

This doughboy's letter sort of strikes deeper. It reminds us that our lads are thinking of the "good things" America provides, and they want to come back to these "good things," among which, good American whiskey is by no means of the greatest importance.

And it makes us stay-at-homes feel that it is our duty to see to it that our kids find their homeland unchanged in its fundamental way of life, when they get back from having risked their lives to preserve it.

The mail was unusually good this morning . . . we enjoyed it.

Webster says:—"Alarm—A call to arms for defense".

A Bell that rings for Liberty... Every Morning

Millions of alarms have rung since our people were forced by war to clench their friendly hands into hard-hitting fists. Some of the hands were dainty and beautifully manicured . . . some were wrinkled and tired . . . but, all proved equal to the biggest job that ever faced this or any other land.

Our nation has shown that it can produce the sinews of war on a scale never believed possible before. New found energy, ingenuity and skills have given our people self-reliance. They are determined to apply themselves to the task ahead until final victory is won.

Surely, the seasoned veteran and self-disciplined civilian, working together, will master whatever problems peacetime may present. The future for America and for all of us can be as bright as we wish to make it.

People who get results agree that there is no substitute for hard work and also that recreation and relaxation are essential to accomplishment. In your well-earned leisure, select a beverage of moderation. A tall, slaty glass of Budweiser is a standing invitation to make your moments of relaxation complete.

FATHER PRIDE

"Well, I'm not much at language! All I know I learned by working at my trade: How bars of metal into things are made; How wheels and springs make useful gadgets go.

"The boy is smarter! Heard of him, no doubt? Distinguished service! Given a medal, too. Trapped by the Japs, he fought 'em and won through! It's that, of course, and more I'm glad about.

"I told his mother we'd a plucky lad; That given a chance he'd surely prove his grit. Now, here's the thought that comforts us a bit: We're making here the sort of gun he had.

"Just read his letter: 'When 'twas over, dad, And I was happy and no more afraid, I thought the gun I carried you had made And you could share my battle and be glad.'"

Today's Talk

DEBTORS

We are all debtors. We are debtors to multitudes for the knowledge that we gain, whether from books, nature or people with whom we come in daily contact. We are debtors to every race, every country, and eternally to our Creator for the ability to understand and appreciate.

We owe a debt to the scientists, inventors, painters of great art, poets and writers, as well as to every laborer who has put his hand to a useful task.

When this tragic war is over, I hope that thousands of the people of the United States will visit the beautiful country north of us—our neighbor and friend, Canada. Especially I hope that many will roam the interesting and historic Province of Nova Scotia, which has been my summer retreat for over a dozen years. Longfellow's "Evangeline" poem has given it much fame, but this small Province is a treasure trove of interest from a score and more angles. Many of the great historic events of this continent had their initiation there. And Nova Scotia has been one of the really great contributors to American culture.

I often pass by the beautiful New York Public Library on Fifth Avenue, and have admired the two great flag-poles that fly the Stars and Stripes daily, but it was not until I read an interesting account of them in Dr. Clara Dennis's book "More About Nova Scotia" that I learned they were made by an old shipbuilder from South Mainland, on the Bay of Fundy, Nova Scotia. He came to the United States in his 76th year and made one thousand, five hundred and sixty flag-poles, every one of them flying the Stars and Stripes, these two in front of the New York Library being among the lot! And so millions of Americans have become a debtor to this fine and useful Nova Scotia character.

Near my home is a monument, erected to the memory of heroic boys who gave their lives in the first World War. We can never stand before any of these monuments without experiencing a feeling of the debt that we owe to these heroes who gave their all that freedom might perish from the earth. What debts we owe—and what a short time in which to try to repay at least a portion of them!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Buried Treasure."

Females have a higher percentage of defective vision than males for every age group.

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO
Local Miscellany: Proprietor Ziegler, of the Eagle Hotel, has issued a very unique and instructive pocket map of the Battlefield of Gettysburg in connection with a description of his hostelry.

Samuel M. Stanton has received a pension of $6 a month and back pay amounting to $236.
J. C. Eckenrode and M. E. Becker have formed a partnership under the firm name of Eckenrode and Becker, to conduct the butchering business, on Chambersburg street.
Messrs. Charley Gleason and George Musselman, of Fairfield, are putting up a limekiln.

The town was crowded on Monday with business men from all parts of the county. The hard times prevented many debtors from meeting engagements; and there were many disappointed men. The banks kept open doors till a late hour; and the county officials were kept busy till night fall. On the whole, our local business was a reflex of the nation's business for the period covered by both.

Mr. Charles J. Tyson is preparing to enlarge and remodel his barn on his Flora Dale property.
Charles Long moved from Emmitsburg to Gettysburg.
Peter McCavitt is making decided improvements to the old McConaughy hall property on Carlisle street, lately vacated by Lewis J. Ramer. He has divided the big restaurant room. The northern half will be used as an eating room and the southern half will be for the bar room, with closets in the rear. A new dining room has been fitted up on the second floor, and a new porch has been added.

Harry Lackner, the baker, is improving his property on Chambersburg street, recently purchased from Jerome Walter.
State College has a game scheduled with the college team for Saturday, April 13.

About 100 members of the Alumni association of the Philadelphia Girls' High and Normal Schools will make an Easter tour of Gettysburg, Luray and Washington.

MANY MINERS REMAIN IDLE IN THIS STATE

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Several thousand miners were idle today in Pennsylvania pending back-to-work votes as John L. Lewis and bituminous operators resumed contract negotiations here.

One "no contract, no work" vote was taken last night by workers at two "captive" (steel-company owned) mines near Uniontown, Pa. This action by the 700-member local followed receipt of a telegram from Lewis informing them the contract negotiation period had been extended and asking them to remain at work.

However, John P. Busarello, president of Pittsburgh district 5 of the UMW, said all mines in his district except four had voted to return to work. These four, employing 2,150 men, are due to hold back-to-work meetings today. Busarello said he expected all to vote favorably.

A check of District 4 (Uniontown) mines showed at least five pits with more than 2,000 employees would be idle today pending votes. There were no reports of similar idleness outside Pennsylvania.

New but undisclosed figures on Lewis's wage demands were introduced as the mine leader and operators returned to their contract talks yesterday. Lewis's principal pay request is return of the 35-hour basic work-week with overtime for all time in excess.

The negotiating committees are to report to the War Labor Board by Saturday on the progress of the negotiations. The old contract, which expired last Saturday night, was extended at WLB's direction. Lewis limited the extension to 30 days.

Tokyo Hit Monday By Superforts

The B-29s, flying from Saipan bases, came in at low level in the pre-dawn darkness, setting numerous fires. Tokyo said the bombers were over the Tokyo-Yokohama metropolitan area for an hour, starting at 2:30 a. m.

TO FORM WORLD POLICE FORCE AT SAN FRANCISCO

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The United Nations Conference in San Francisco April 25 will be like organizing an international police department.

The idea is this: If you see a cop on the corner, you won't be so ready to drive through a red light.

The cops—all the nations who join the organization—agree to try to keep the world at peace after this war ends.

They'll try to do it peacefully. If that fails, they gang up on a war-mongering nation and use force, such as armies and bombers.

Peace Equipment

Present plans call for three main kinds of equipment for keeping the peace:

1. A world court of justice.
2. A general assembly.
3. A security council.

Here's a simplified explanation of how the equipment would be used:

The world court—

Two nations have a dispute, maybe over the right of fishing grounds or timberland. It may be something the court could settle by handing down an opinion, sort of in the way our Supreme Court does.

"Peace-Loving" Nations

The general assembly—
All members of this big international police department would have representatives in this assembly. To be admitted as a member a nation would have to be considered a "peace loving" nation.

The assembly could do other things, too: It could work out recommendations on disarmament, or ways to keep the world working soundly economically and socially.

But the Assembly, in spite of all its members, could not make that most important decision of all: the decision to use force against some nation which is threatening the peace. Only the Security Council could do this.

The Security Council

Unlike the Assembly, in which every nation would be represented, the Security Council would have only 11 members.

Five of them—the United States, the United Kingdom, Soviet Russia, China and France—would be permanent members. They're the Big Five.

The other six members of the Security Council would hold seats for two years only. Then they would be succeeded by six other nations. These six members of the council would be elected by the Assembly.

If the time came when the Security Council decided that only force could keep some war-mongering nation in line, it could order into action the armies or forces put at its disposal by the member nations of the International Police department.

Senate Confirms Arnold For Court

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Unanimous Senate confirmation went to John C. Arnold for Superior court membership after a flurry of debate in which the Republican leadership was accused of "juggling judge-ships."

The Clearfield attorney, former president of the Pennsylvania Bar association, will replace the late Judge William H. Keller and will be the GOP organization candidate for a full term in the June primary.

Declaring he had "no intention to cast reflection" on Arnold, Senator Joseph M. Barr, (D-Allegheny), read a 15-minute speech before the 49-0 vote yesterday. After tracing judicial appointments, he declared:

"I allege nothing. I simply am wondering aloud if there can be some practical politics of a not too savory nature behind the juggling of judgeships which goes on in this state. I think it might be well if this honorable body would look further into the matter in the interest of public welfare."

Jap Women Attack Artillery Unit

Okinawa, April 3 (AP) (Via Navy Radio)—A group of 11 women and five men, dressed in Japanese soldier uniforms, Sunday night attacked an American field artillery unit.

The fanatical attack failed and some of the women committed suicide. Three of the women were wounded, dying later.

The rest of the women and all of the men were killed.

How to Rotate Pastures

Grazing pastures too early in the spring and over-grazing later in the season are poor business practices—poor for the land, the pasture and the animals. However, many farmers are compelled by grain and forage shortages to turn livestock out early, regardless of the pasture's condition. These and other related problems may result from faulty pasture plans and impractical pasture management. The solution often lies in pasture rotation as a prevailing farm practice.

Of course, there is but one way to have early spring pasture and at the same time protect permanent pasture from the injury that results from tramping and stunting grass before it gains substantial growth, and that is to have at least a few acres of annual or emergency pasture. Full-seeded rye, vetch and sweet clover are often employed in this role. Any or all of these furnish lush grazing even in late winter and may be plowed under later for soil-improvement purposes. By this planned method livestock not only obtains higher quality grazing earlier in the spring, but permanent pasturage enjoys the indispensable advantage of "getting a start" before animals are turned out to it. Therefore rotation protects this growth.

Pasture rotation is not a new or untried theory. It is centuries old in practice, the explanation why many Old World farmers are able to maintain as many as 10 and 12 cows to one acre of carefully protected pasture. It is based on the same sound principles of plant growth as are applicable in growing corn, potatoes and other cultivated crops.

Divided into Plots

The permanent pasture field is divided into three or four plots, fenced temporarily in plot shapes to permit access to water, easy transfer and other requirements of movement. After grass is well started in late spring and the soil is firm, livestock may be turned into one of the plots and grazed there until the grass is fairly short but not so short as to injure the crowns and roots or to become difficult for the animals to reach. Then they are turned into the second plot and likewise grazed. By the time they have grazed the last

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—There will be a public art at St. Euphemia's hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Cubs of Emmitsburg, Junior Boy Scouts, under the direction of Dow Strader, are collecting and selling waste paper. Since the middle of March they have collected 1,035 pounds. The goal of each Cub is 1,000 pounds. The proceeds will be used by the Cubs for a vacation at the Boy's Camp in Carlisle.

Albany, N. Y., April 3 (AP)—The Eastern Baseball League's 1945 schedule of 140 games, clipping 25 per cent off last year's travel scheme, is the most economical of seven proposals presented to the member club owners, according to President Thomas H. Richardson, Williamsport, Pa.

Pittsburgh, April 3 (AP)—There's a new hat in the mayoralty ring at Pittsburgh, a beribboned Easter bonnet tossed there by Mrs. Laura O'Rourke Dugas, 26-year-old singing waitress, housewife and Democrat.

"The first thing I'll do if elected is to lift the curfew," she said. "Then I'll bring the cigarettes out from under the counters. I'll see that there's meat in every frying pan, too!"

Does she think she can win? "A woman can't lose," she declared. Already, she said, she has five of the 100 names she needs of her petition of candidacy.

SUCCESSOR FOR VINSON SOUGHT

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Capitol Hill awaited a bit nervously today the appointment of the third man in as many months to hold the nation's biggest banking job.

The nomination of Fred M. Vinson to succeed James F. Byrnes as Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion left open Vinson's post as administrator of the $40,000,000 RFC financing and lending agencies.

While Senator Brewster (R., Me.) said the finance committee would call Vinson to the capitol for some questioning, there was every indication of speedy confirmation.

The only concern was evidenced on the score of his successor.

Chairman George (D., Ga.) of the finance committee told reporters he hoped President Roosevelt would send up the name of a man "of the same splendid qualification as Judge Vinson."

Senator Butler (R., Neb.) said he hoped the nominee would be "a man qualified by experience and in whom the entire country can have confidence."

Abbottstown—About 10 boys of the local Boy Scout troop went to York Y.M.C.A. on Friday night on a swimming party. Scout Leaders F. Faber Wildasin and George Hollinger, Jr., accompanied them.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haverstick was placed under quarantine for scarlet fever last week. Mrs. Haverstick is suffering with a mild form of the disease.

S. S. Wolf suffered a painful injury to his left hand when he had his hands caught between two oil drums he was unloading. Mr. Wolf is employed by the state highway repair gang.

Holy Communion was held at Emmanuel Reformed church Sunday. Three new members were confirmed. They were Miss Ethel D. Miller, Wilber Hildebrand and Samuel Diehl, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Diehl recently visited their daughter, Althea, who is a patient at a Baltimore hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Bartholomew and daughter, Doris, Philadelphia, were guests over the Easter holidays at the home of Mrs. Bartholomew's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Frey.

TROOP CARRIER

U. S. Troop Carrier Base in European Theater of Operations

Technical Sergeant Kenneth R. Carbaugh, a former manager of the Delecto store, Gettysburg and a former manager in the ice cream department of the Penn Dairies, Inc., Lancaster, is now stationed in the European theater of operations with 442d Troop Carrier group. He has just been authorized to wear a fourth battle star on his ETO ribbon.

As crew-chief on a troop carrying C-47, he is constantly checking his "Skytrain" for discrepancies, making the necessary changes immediately. His big job, "engine changes," is an overhauling that takes long tedious hours and subjects him to the biting winds and the damp snow. It is on the ground that the crew-chief is "boss" of his plane, for although he is a flying member of the crew, the pilot commands the plane's destiny when the plane is airborne.

The 442d Troop Carrier Group is one of the groups which have figured so heavily in the invasions of both northern and southern France, as well as Holland, and are highly specialized, extremely mobile organizations trained for months ahead of time to drop paratroopers and para-supplies, or release gliders, within enemy territory. All such Troop Carrier groups are under the command of Major General Paul L. Williams and form the U. S. Troop Carrier forces, the American air component of the First Allied Airborne Army, which held the day at Bastogne and is one of the ground components of the above mentioned army, was brought its first supplies by Troop Carrier planes and gliders.

Second Marriage

By EVELYN MURRAY CAMPBELL

Chapter 26

The doctor's words shocked Cynthia. "You have married a younger man than yourself, Mrs. Winslow."

It is always a difficult adjustment through custom or tradition—actually it has been proven at times to be a superior arrangement, the man finding wife and mother in the same woman, tenderness and wisdom. He smiled and let his eyes fall away from her face. "But there must be wisdom in this age, however, among the so called civilized, there are the obstacles of sensitiveness to ridicule, a morbid self abasement, a dozen complexes to break down. But it can be done, Mrs. Winslow. If you are strong enough it can be done."

She was bewildered, angry, aghast that he should have diagnosed her and not Edris. She faltered.

"You blame me? You think it is my fault?"

"You are not meeting your husband on his terms. You are insisting upon your own. It is a situation you have created."

He stood up dismissing her abruptly and in the corridor she tore the card into bits and dropped it into the container. The matter of Edris that had seemed so imperative was forgotten.

She was humiliated because she had allowed someone to look into her heart. She was ashamed of what the man and not the doctor had seen there. Believing it hidden even from herself she had held Edris before her like a shield and he had seen through her child to what had been the real problem.

She remembered how angry Carey had been when the subject came up between them. He had resented the implication of their ages pretending that it was a triviality and unworthy of their love. But it was not trivial. It was deep and forbidding to more than love. To pride.

To the pain of a woman growing older, loving a man, married to a man years younger than herself. She had made a bogey of it but it was a bogey none the less.

It was late in the morning when she woke after an almost sleepless night. She felt heavy and listless, weary with wondering what she should do.

The day was soft gray and waiting. It waited innocently with its crowds of Sunday drivers, churchgoers, people waiting for the afternoon show. Little yellow winged planes from the training school buzzed overhead, turned and went back. Sometimes one of them came down. She had seen it happen and the young pilot had walked away rubbing his shoulder. Pretty little bright planes like yellow butterflies against the gray, veiled sky. They couldn't hurt anyone. That was what Carey's blue prints meant — bombers that would hurt, tear men and cities to pieces. He just smiled when he looked at the little training planes. The ones he wanted to make would wipe the world out. Shatter it. No wonder her pain and loneliness were so small in his eyes. Carey could be cruel.

Edris came with her tray. It was so dainty with pink and white china and a pink camella from Hamuri's lathe house.

"Hamuri's gone," Edris giggled, "or I wouldn't have dared cut his camella. He knows every one by name."

"Gone? Gone where?"

"Gone away—to Japan, I suppose. He sent another in his place and this one was born in America and talks as well as we do. He went through High School, Santa Monica High. He keeps telling it over and over as if we didn't believe it."

"You mustn't talk to strange gardeners," Cynthia said absently.

"Hamuri was different. You knew Hamuri so well."

There was the Sunday newspaper with thick black headlines, "JAPANESE ENVOYS CONFERENCE AT CAPITAL," "DECISION FOR PEACE SAID TO BE NEAR."

Edris turning dials on the little table radio, Sunday music came, a soprano voice, a commercial plugging somebody's toothpaste — and into that another voice, strident, exploiting horror, fear, incredulity — "PEARL HARBOR HAS BEEN ATTACKED—"

"Pearl Harbor—Pearl Harbor—"

Cynthia heard without understanding. There was a shock that kept her from thinking straight. Edris was chattering "That's Manila—no, it isn't. It's Hawaii where we were going next year, mother"

Cynthia silenced her wishing that the announcer would say it over again. It sounded like a radio gag but she wanted to be sure.

He said it again and so did every other station in staggering unison. And then there was Edris becoming appallingly pale. There was Maud stumbling up the stairs. "Oh, did you hear that? I said I ought to take the children to Joe's. Now it may be too late." The radio babbled on and no one turned it off. By this time it was plain enough. They had heard all about it. They knew as much as anyone else in America. The president was trying to telephone— It wasn't a gag. It was the truth. Real.

Maud shuddered at the foot of the bed. It was odd that the ultimatum should come from her. "This will mean war," Maud said.

Cynthia got out of bed and began to dress. She didn't feel heavy and listless any more. It was as if some long deadlock was broken, a dam that flooded and wrecked both brought relief. The radio went on and on and the story was told and retold until gradually there was a piece meal picture and they had to believe what they saw with their own eyes.

Peter ran to the window that showed the blue ocean melting into the bluer horizon. The tide was far out and the water still as a cup of tea.

"They're right over there," he cried. "They can come any minute. Mother, what'll we do if they come?"

The cook appeared in the door, apronless. "I'm going to my sister's in Whittier," she said. "Her boy is over there on an island. She'd feel I ought to be with her, ma'am."

"Very well," Cynthia said mechanically.

RUSSO-POLISH PROBLEMS UP

Washington, April 3 (AP)—United States diplomats are working at top speed to avoid a showdown with Russia over Polish participation in the San Francisco United Nations conference.

High officials here hope the Polish National Unity government agreed upon at Yalta in February still may be set up in time to resolve the controversy.

Should it appear in the next few days that this hope might be transformed into a probability with additional time, the opening date of the conference may be delayed two or three weeks beyond April 25.

These officials show little inclination at the moment, however, to favor a prolonged postponement.

The Polish issue actually involves two closely related questions:

1. Reorganization of the present Soviet-sponsored Warsaw regime to include Polish "Democratic elements" from both inside and outside the country.

2. Representation for Poland at the San Francisco Conference.

This became an open controversy Saturday with disclosure that Russia had requested and Britain and the United States had vetoed an invitation for the present Warsaw government.

mittie is to be wholly for the benefit of war veterans."

To Have Public Meeting
At the same meeting the committee members discussed the provisions of the veterans' bill and the committee's plans of operation.

It was announced that an open meeting will be held this month to bring before the public a complete explanation of the plan by which veterans can secure federal guarantees of their loans made from local agencies for farming purposes. Speakers from the Veterans' Administration at Washington, D. C., will be invited to come here for the meeting and explain all features of the GI Bill of Rights, including the farm loan provisions.

The committee urged today that veterans interested in buying, stocking and equipping farms get in touch with Chairman Smith or Mr. Myers, the secretary, before going "too far" in the selection of a farm or lending agency in order to make sure that he understands the requirement and has his own eligibility for a guaranteed loan cleared.

Veterans are advised to contact the committee, consult the county agent, locate a farm, find a lender and arrange for the loan, contact the Veterans' Certifying committee so that a government appraiser may be secured and the other necessary procedures for securing a federal guarantee of the loan followed through.

RICKEY TIFFS WITH HURLER'S DRAFT BOARD

New York, April 3 (AP)—President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers is steamed up again, but this time it isn't against Manager Leo Durocher and his side-line radio appearances.

He is indignant because 25-year-old Cyril Buker, 4-F right handed pitcher being groomed for a starting berth, yesterday received word from his Sturgeon Bay, Wis., draft board that he has been reclassified 1-A because of asserted job-jumping.

Several weeks ago a War Manpower Commission ruling freed ball players from their essential jobs so they might return to their principal occupation. Rickey said yesterday that "if this isn't a violation of that ruling, I don't know what is."

Buker was athletic director at Eau Claire, Wis., high school last winter but obtained his employers' permission to return to baseball after the WMC's ruling. Buker denied he is a job jumper.

The clerk of the Door county, Wis., draft board said the board decided that since Buker was last examined more than two years ago and is now going to play baseball, it felt he should undergo another examination.

Nick Damore Tough Hurdle For Barons
Cleveland, April 3 (AP)—Goalie Nick Damore of the Hershey Bears isn't a very sizeable man but apparently he's the big hurdle in the Cleveland Barons' drive for a clean sweep on American hockey league titles.

The Barons meet the Bears tonight in the second game of the league's Calder cup championship playoffs and beating volatile Nick is to them the chief problem of the series.

The Cleveland six, winners of the western division title and the league percentage championship, copped the opening playoff tussle Saturday 3 to 2 by making two storybook shots in the final period.

Except for those two instances, the agile Damore beat the Baron forwards to the puck with characteristic consistency.

Nick was named all-league goalie by the players this spring and his skill was apparent in the playoff semi-finals when Hershey defeated Indianapolis four games to one. The Capitals slipped only five goals past Damore.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, April 3 (AP)—Raised eyebrows dept. . . . News from Cornell's spring football drills reveals that Gil Bouley is due to fill a tackle slot in the Big Red team next fall. . . . And Gil's presence will insure that "big" tag. He's the 235-pounder who was a sophomore sensation at Boston college three years ago. . . . Since then he has been in and out of the army and chose to follow his favorite coach, Ed McKeever, to Cornell. . . . No one is likely to say much about one man going to a school like Cornell, but more than one college athletic leader is afraid such transfers will become a habit. . . . One school of thought is that ex-servicemen should be allowed to compete only for the colleges where they started.

TWO SIDES

Here's what Syracuse's Lew Andrews, who has devoted considerable thought to the subject, has to say about post-war transfers: "I believe it will be for the best interests of intercollegiate sport to apply the transfer rule strictly. This will work hardship in some cases and perhaps these cases could be referred to a special board representing such groups as the Eastern Intercollegiate Football association. . . . unless the transfer rule is applied strictly, I believe we shall witness the greatest carnival of proselytizing in the history of sports. . . . There will be a delegation of bowl-hungry directors on every dock to meet every returning ship. . . . Oklahoma's Dale Arbuckle takes a more liberal view which reaches about the same conclusion. Dale believes any service man sent back to school by the G. I. Bill of Rights should immediately become eligible for athletics. He says its not their fault they weren't eligible sooner. But whether he should return to his old school or another is a new problem and Arbuckle figures a national eligibility committee should be set up to handle such things.

College Football Given Lift By Rules

New York, April 3 (AP)—College football, given a life by the re-appearance of the T-formation, received another offensive boost in the 1945 revamping of the playing code, in the opinion of Col. Williamingham, chairman of the NCAA Gridiron Rules Committee.

"Certainly, the right to pass from any point behind the line of scrimmage adds punch to the offense while the new rule which allows a substitute to report to any of the officials on the field adds speed," he said last night at the close of a 48-hour rule rewriting job.

Most surprising change formulated by the rules group in its first session since shortly after Pearl Harbor, dealt with the kickoff. In the future the first out-of-bounds boot will be regarded as an accident, but on the second the receiving team will put the ball in play on the kicking eleven's 40-yard line.

To improve the kicker's accuracy, the ball may be raised one inch from the ground. The committee avoided the use of the word "tee" to permit the kicking team a chance to raise the ball in any manner it found fit.

Vince Hanson Top Collegiate Scorer

New York, April 3 (AP)—Big Vince Hanson, of Washington state in the Pacific northwest, won the 1945 National Collegiate individual high scoring basketball race with 592 points, a final compilation by the Associated Press showed today.
